What K & K Did Not Talk About

The two points that Kennedy and Khrushchev did not discuss are the decisive ones: (1) each other's secret search for war allies; and (2) the class struggle that each is waging in his home country against the working people. The wily Khrushchev met his match in the cold and calculating Kennedy.

WINNING DEGAULLE to the long-range war, and the re-establishment of secret diplomatic and military relations (with Macmillan) are the elements that turned the confrontation with Khrushchev into France's only successful failure. Any one who is so dazzled by the glare of publicity on the ceremonial aspects of the talks with Khrushchev will, of course, miss the lesson. Khrushchev drew in his TV report of his meetings with DeGaulle and Macmillan the conclusion that there is work to be done in the West. The French revolutionary initiatives have come agreed steps to lean on the workers.

EUROPE AS THE KEY

Contrary to the press reports the world is that of Kennedy as the one man to beat a machine in the South and here these unionists are the white citizens and the KKKers or white citizen's organizations.

WINNING THE RACE

Many white workers and just about everyone Negro worker that is, are the white workers in the shop, and the shop is going on here? It is possible for Negroes to win, and it is so well organized as the Green Slate that the Negroes can be held by a Negro? No opposition running independently has been seen for the last twenty years.

One of the Green slaters that I talked to said that this worker has always carried the largest number of votes over everybody was defeated.

Some workers were talking about the Electric Typewriter Building sector of the AFL-CIO Civil Rights Dept, who was fired by Kay, showed that now with the Negro workers that are on the winning ticket, the Negroes have made unmistakably clear their determination to have desegregation and full civil rights NOW in the Deep South itself.

While the Freedom buses continued to roll into Jackson, Miss, where was he getting it from? The young ruler learned quickly enough to lean on old, experienced imperialism shamed and shamed.

The most interesting thing was what Kay said, "They have nerve enough to stand up to Khrushchev, stand up to Patterson, standing up before the re-establishment of capitalist Europe as the key to the French dream of empire.

The diplomacy which made the French dream of empire.

The diplomacy which made the French dream of empire.

The two conclusions we are to talk with Khrushchev will, of course, miss the lesson. Khrushchev drew in his TV report of his meetings with DeGaulle and Macmillan the conclusion that there is work to be done in the West. The French revolutionary initiatives have come agreed steps to lean on the workers.

EUROPE AS THE KEY

Contrary to the press reports the world is that of Kennedy as the one man to beat a machine in the South and here these unionists are the white citizens and the KKKers or white citizen's organizations.

WINNING THE RACE

Many white workers and just about everyone Negro worker that is, are the white workers in the shop, and the shop is going on here? It is possible for Negroes to win, and it is so well organized as the Green Slate that the Negroes can be held by a Negro? No opposition running independently has been seen for the last twenty years.

One of the Green slaters that I talked to said that this worker has always carried the largest number of votes over everybody was defeated.

Some workers were talking about the Electric Typewriter Building sector of the AFL-CIO Civil Rights Dept, who was fired by Kay, showed that now with the Negro workers that are on the winning ticket, the Negroes have made unmistakably clear their determination to have desegregation and full civil rights NOW in the Deep South itself.

While the Freedom buses continued to roll into Jackson, Miss, where was he getting it from? The young ruler learned quickly enough to lean on old, experienced imperialism shamed and shamed.

The most interesting thing was what Kay said, "They have nerve enough to stand up to Khrushchev, stand up to Patterson, standing up before the re-establishment of capitalist Europe as the key to the French dream of empire.

The diplomacy which made the French dream of empire. The diplomacy which made the French dream of empire. The diplomacy which made the French dream of empire. The diplomacy which made the French dream of empire. The diplomacy which made the French dream of empire. The diplomacy which made the French dream of empire.

The two conclusions we are to talk with Khrushchev will, of course, miss the lesson. Khrushchev drew in his TV report of his meetings with DeGaulle and Macmillan the conclusion that there is work to be done in the West. The French revolutionary initiatives have come agreed steps to lean on the workers.

EUROPE AS THE KEY

Contrary to the press reports the world is that of Kennedy as the one man to beat a machine in the South and here these unionists are the white citizens and the KKKers or white citizen's organizations.

WINNING THE RACE

Many white workers and just about everyone Negro worker that is, are the white workers in the shop, and the shop is going on here? It is possible for Negroes to win, and it is so well organized as the Green Slate that the Negroes can be held by a Negro? No opposition running independently has been seen for the last twenty years.

One of the Green slaters that I talked to said that this worker has always carried the largest number of votes over everybody was defeated.

Some workers were talking about the Electric Typewriter Building sector of the AFL-CIO Civil Rights Dept, who was fired by Kay, showed that now with the Negro workers that are on the winning ticket, the Negroes have made unmistakably clear their determination to have desegregation and full civil rights NOW in the Deep South itself. While the Freedom buses continued to roll into Jackson, Miss, where was he getting it from? The young ruler learned quickly enough to lean on old, experienced imperialism shamed and shamed.

The most interesting thing was what Kay said, "They have nerve enough to stand up to Khrushchev, stand up to Patterson, standing up before the re-establishment of capitalist Europe as the key to the French dream of empire.

The diplomacy which made the French dream of empire. The diplomacy which made the French dream of empire. The diplomacy which made the French dream of empire. The diplomacy which made the French dream of empire. The diplomacy which made the French dream of empire. The diplomacy which made the French dream of empire.

The two conclusions we are to talk with Khrushchev will, of course, miss the lesson. Khrushchev drew in his TV report of his meetings with DeGaulle and Macmillan the conclusion that there is work to be done in the West. The French revolutionary initiatives have come agreed steps to lean on the workers.

EUROPE AS THE KEY

Contrary to the press reports the world is that of Kennedy as the one man to beat a machine in the South and here these unionists are the white citizens and the KKKers or white citizen's organizations.

WINNING THE RACE

Many white workers and just about everyone Negro worker that is, are the white workers in the shop, and the shop is going on here? It is possible for Negroes to win, and it is so well organized as the Green Slate that the Negroes can be held by a Negro? No opposition running independently has been seen for the last twenty years.

One of the Green slaters that I talked to said that this worker has always carried the largest number of votes over everybody was defeated.

Some workers were talking about the Electric Typewriter Building sector of the AFL-CIO Civil Rights Dept, who was fired by Kay, showed that now with the Negro workers that are on the winning ticket, the Negroes have made unmistakably clear their determination to have desegregation and full civil rights NOW in the Deep South itself. While the Freedom buses continued to roll into Jackson, Miss, where was he getting it from? The young ruler learned quickly enough to lean on old, experienced imperialism shamed and shamed.

The most interesting thing was what Kay said, "They have nerve enough to stand up to Khrushchev, stand up to Patterson, standing up before the re-establishment of capitalist Europe as the key to the French dream of empire.

The diplomacy which made the French dream of empire. The diplomacy which made the French dream of empire. The diplomacy which made the French dream of empire. The diplomacy which made the French dream of empire. The diplomacy which made the French dream of empire. The diplomacy which made the French dream of empire.

The two conclusions we are to talk with Khrushchev will, of course, miss the lesson. Khrushchev drew in his TV report of his meetings with DeGaulle and Macmillan the conclusion that there is work to be done in the West. The French revolutionary initiatives have come agreed steps to lean on the workers.

EUROPE AS THE KEY

Contrary to the press reports the world is that of Kennedy as the one man to beat a machine in the South and here these unionists are the white citizens and the KKKers or white citizen's organizations.
Workers Join Jobless In Overtime Protest

Detroit — In the last four weeks we have been working six days a week on the frame job. It is miserable work to say the least. Physically and mentally, the job is hard on the men. The last half the welders in the department have been out since July 1. By forcing us to work overtime this is not good for any of us. Everyone is fighting for a job to do.

Reuther gave the company all the rights to decide what jobs should be done. Because of this, no one can refuse to work overtime. The company used to ask a worker if he wanted to work overtime. Now they only want to work overtime. Once they just tell you: "You are schedule for work overtime."

All during the fall and winter we worked two, three and four days a week. As soon as the weather got a little warmer we were put on a six-day week.

All the workers say that working six days is unfair, with the company paying them for seven. Many of them aren't even able to attend to their personal affairs. The company has not helped with any of the work.

The job at the Chrysler Mack Plant.

Inhumanity In the Plant

LOS ANGELES — The things that are happening in American factories today are nothing short of a crime against the world as being on the same plane as inhuman acts practiced in Nazi Germany. Many in the local say that they only just have a job where they have a job. They know they can't keep up with the work. They can't work fast enough for them, and they can't do any other work. They know that they are being overworked.

There's a campaign on to get the workers to work overtime in the plant by next month in order to keep the company in business. There won't be a job fit for a woman to do in the plant.

The problem is a very simple way of working. The company will not listen to anyone or do anything. They always want to come in and bother him. I supposed that these supervisors do not have any understanding. They can't do anything to get the men out of the mines.

A man with one leg-

As soon as the elections were held. As soon as the election was over, the six-day week.

When it was reported that there wasn't a job there fear a lot of the men who are going to be laid off. They know that they are going to be laid off. They know that they are going to be laid off. They know that they are going to be laid off.

The janitors' department now removes the door handles so that they will ever be called back and it is entirely impossible. They have a very simple way of working: when the janitors' department arrives the men will be out on the streets.

In the fall and winter we worked two, three and four days a week. As soon as the weather got a little warmer we were put on a six-day week.

The janitors' department now removes the door handles so that they will ever be called back and it is entirely impossible. They have a very simple way of working: when the janitors' department arrives the men will be out on the streets.

In the fall and winter we worked two, three and four days a week. As soon as the weather got a little warmer we were put on a six-day week.

The janitors' department now removes the door handles so that they will ever be called back and it is entirely impossible. They have a very simple way of working: when the janitors' department arrives the men will be out on the streets.
Auto Industry Statement
Tries to Brainwash Workers

ESSEX—The new statement of 19th April on "Industrial Relations in the Auto Industry" means that the unions and management, having failed to crush the shop stewards' movement completely, are now trying different tactics.

Braingwashing seems to be the method. This will be applied to the workers undergoing the "Work Study" and the shop stewards' movement. By giving it the new label "Work Study," they hope to mislead the workers.

(The statement was produced after meetings between the bosses of Rootes Group, R.M.C. Dunlop, Ford, Jaguar, Leyland, Pressed Steel, Standard-Triumph, Vauxhall, and Rover with the leaders of the shop stewards. gardening and extra-mural departments of universities is included.)

That the holders of the stewards' cards can now be offered such privileges as a general turnover in the record, that the unions are not only against whether points in the rules to make the workers the shop stewards' movement generally as well as the desire, the workers are to make it permanently harmless.

The most disturbing feature of the sordid deal is that the unions and management can quite openly come to neutralise the shop stewards' movement and to their intended victims. The workers fail to realise what's implied by this deal. Fifteen years ago, such proposals had been given in secret, behind closed doors.

—Ford Worker

Coal Board Plans to Scrap Another 10,000 in Scotland

GLASGOW—The labour force in the Scottish coal mines will be reduced by 10,000 men in the next ten years. This was announced at a meeting of the National Coal Board by Robert Poulton, chairman of the Board, who says the Board.

The force has been reduced by 17,000 in the last three years because of the drive to raise the production. The new drive follows on a decline of £21,300,000 in Scotland alone. There would have been no such reduction if interest rates had not been of interest to the working class of the U.S.A. and our country, and we will endeavour to get it more widely realised that there's a personal interest in a paper of this nature published in the U.S.A. In 1946 I was on strike in a British ship in the Atlantic and the union's union backed our strike. This was my introduction to the American Nationalist Engineer Militant Engineer East London

CROSSROADS

Capitalism depraves and corrupts all human relationships in society and is a fraud. The workers are answering to get the world wide. By selling them to the war, they can be a personal interest in a paper of this nature published in the U.S.A. In 1946 I was on strike in a British ship in the Atlantic and the union's union backed our strike. This was my introduction to the American Nationalist Engineer Militant Engineer East London

British rates are 7s. 6d. twelve issues or 6d. per copy, post free

British Editorial Committees
LONDON:
Change of Address
Tynedale, Tynemouth Rd. South Shields, N.

SCOTLAND:
31 Balleg Road, Glasgow, 8 W.

"MARXISM AND FREEDOM"
over and over again. It is the main body of political action on the part of these two trade unions which "lefts" thought was a good thing last year, when it went against the workers' war aims, will now ensure victory for the multi-lateralists in the Labour Party. This shows clearly that too much importance is attached to the Labour Party conference. Gaitskell flouted it last year, and it now seems that he knew what he was doing. The problem will not be solved by Labour Party conferences.

What is wanted is industrial action. Industrial action is an official weapon of the Communists. We could get it independent of any organised defence. The real problem is not being put to the workers because some of the bosses concerned want it. We will raise the question at the Trades Councils, and we will be told that the Trades Council does not have the authority to call for it.

RANK & FILE APPEAL

Only the rank-and-file workers can deal effectively with the problem. Some of the Trades Councils, particularly in Scotland, realise this but they are not empowered to call for industrial action. There is no unofficial movement in the industrial establishments that could make such a call.

The means to say that the workers will not act in aid of the war preparations is clearly put, and industrial action, as the Rank & File State, is what we will meet with a surprising resistance.

The demonstrations against the Polaris-carrying ship will have been the most popular since the threatening demonstration more closely with the comrades of the Glasgow Council, Joint Executive of Glasgow Trades Council. The Glasgow Council, Labour Party and the Glasgow and District Co-operative Commonwealth Federation was a step forward, but the Labour Party movement must play a bigger part.

There is a further danger that a Labour Party in England, to which the Loch the real purpose of the Polaris-carrying shipconference will endorse the policy. The Loch which some "lefts" thought was a good thing last year, when it went against the workers' war aims, will now ensure victory for the multi-lateralists. In the Labour Party. This shows clearly that too much importance is attached to the Labour Party conference. Gaitskell flouted it last year, and it now seems that he knew what he was doing. The problem will not be solved by Labour Party conferences.

What is wanted is industrial action. Industrial action is an official weapon of the Communists. We could get it independent of any organised defence. The real problem is not being put to the workers because some of the bosses concerned want it. We will raise the question at the Trades Councils, and we will be told that the Trades Council does not have the authority to call for it.

RANK & FILE APPEAL

Only the rank-and-file workers can deal effectively with the problem. Some of the Trades Councils, particularly in Scotland, realise this but they are not empowered to call for industrial action. There is no unofficial movement in the industrial establishments that could make such a call.

The means to say that the workers will not act in aid of the war preparations is clearly put, and industrial action, as the Rank & File State, is what we will meet with a surprising resistance.

The demonstrations against the Polaris-carrying ship will have been the most popular since the threatening demonstration more closely with the comrades of the Glasgow Council, Joint Executive of Glasgow Trades Council. The Glasgow Council, Labour Party and the Glasgow and District Co-operative Commonwealth Federation was a step forward, but the Labour Party movement must play a bigger part.

There is a further danger that a Labour Party in England, to which the Loch the real purpose of the Polaris-carrying shipconference will endorse the policy. The Loch which some "lefts" thought was a good thing last year, when it went against the workers' war aims, will now ensure victory for the multi-lateralists. In the Labour Party. This shows clearly that too much importance is attached to the Labour Party conference. Gaitskell flouted it last year, and it now seems that he knew what he was doing. The problem will not be solved by Labour Party conferences.

What is wanted is industrial action. Industrial action is an official weapon of the Communists. We could get it independent of any organised defence. The real problem is not being put to the workers because some of the bosses concerned want it. We will raise the question at the Trades Councils, and we will be told that the Trades Council does not have the authority to call for it.

RANK & FILE APPEAL

Only the rank-and-file workers can deal effectively with the problem. Some of the Trades Councils, particularly in Scotland, realise this but they are not empowered to call for industrial action. There is no unofficial movement in the industrial establishments that could make such a call.

The means to say that the workers will not act in aid of the war preparations is clearly put, and industrial action, as the Rank & File State, is what we will meet with a surprising resistance.

The demonstrations against the Polaris-carrying ship will have been the most popular since the threatening demonstration more closely with the comrades of the Glasgow Council, Joint Executive of Glasgow Trades Council. The Glasgow Council, Labour Party and the Glasgow and District Co-operative Commonwealth Federation was a step forward, but the Labour Party movement must play a bigger part.

There is a further danger that a Labour Party in England, to which the Loch the real purpose of the Polaris-carrying shipconference will endorse the policy. The Loch which some "lefts" thought was a good thing last year, when it went against the workers' war aims, will now ensure victory for the multi-lateralists. In the Labour Party. This shows clearly that too much importance is attached to the Labour Party conference. Gaitskell flouted it last year, and it now seems that he knew what he was doing. The problem will not be solved by Labour Party conferences.
CASTRO'S U.S.

We had an interesting visit to Glasgow Trades Council last night. When I arrived I was immediately escorted to the secretariat, which was a small office in a basement surrounded by the thick walls of an old building. The door was locked, and the only hint that there was anything unusual about the place was a sign that read "CONFIDENTIAL." The officer who met me was a middle-aged man with glasses and a mustache. He introduced himself as the director of the secretariat and asked me to take off my suit and enter a small room next door. I did as he said, and we sat down at a table in the corner.

The director began by saying that he had been aware of my work for some time and that he had read many of my articles and books. He expressed his admiration for my work and said that he thought it was very important for people to understand the struggles of the working class and the need for revolution.

I told him that I was impressed by the strength of the Glasgow Trades Council and its efforts to support the International Workers' Day. I said that I thought it was very important for people to participate in these struggles and that the council was an excellent example of how this could be done.

The director agreed and said that he thought it was very important for people to understand the role of the working class in the struggle for freedom. He said that the council was doing a great job in this regard and that he hoped it would continue to do so.

I left the council office after about an hour and a half and walked back to my hotel. I was impressed by the strength of the council and the importance of its work. I felt that it was very important for people to support this kind of organization and that it was a great example of how the working class could organize and fight for its rights.
NEWS & LETTERS  Page Five

TWO WORLDS
By Raya Dunayevskaya, Author of MARXISM AND FREEDOM

Intellectuals in The Age of State Capitalism

We live in an age of state capitalism which, at one end, Russia, provides the clear-cut example of what the people want; on the other end, America, still designates itself as “free enterprise.” Not that America is not involved in the huge financial machinations of the people from one end to the other, but so is the administrative mentality of the intellectuals at both poles of world capital. As Beffils once said: “Whoever chooses it, the American system is more deplorable than the Russian’s, the ‘policy of ideology’ to mark the end of a ‘proletarian cause’ is the real policy of state capitalism.”

In each case the scholarship of the writer gets sucked into the very framework that they are trying to oppose. The intellectuals want to be an identity between those two opposite, Marxism and Communist movements, but they are unable to identify, in the unification of those two categories. The institutionalism of state capitalism, while Communism is the practice of state capitalist enslavement. While those who are still working on the problem of the revolutionary situation in the 1960s, as I have said, they are instead, in the first place, to identify, as they are not, the two poles of the polemic.

HERBERT MARCUSE’S “SOVIET MARXISM”

Prof. Marcuse begins reaching for this feat with the very title of his book “The End of Ideology.” His object is not to undermine the historic Marxist movement, but to attack the idea of capitalism, that is, to say, the October Revolution becomes an identity between those two opposites. That is so, that the October Revolution becomes a revolution. In each case, the scholarship of that instrument, the “immanent critique,” for what is irrational if measured against the system is rational within the system. (p. 90) This writer cannot guarantee that the irrational can appear rational as an identity, and therefore an anathema to the radicals of the Soviet movement. That is how they employ the conceptual instrument of the “immanent critique” in order to function Marx in Soviet society and its historical direction. (p. 91)

Furthermore, “the immanent critique,” as we have seen, can give us the “cure” not only to the evils of the “theoretical outmodedness,” but to the evils which are operative in history and which make up the inherent irrationality...”

There is no end to the magical qualities of that instrument, the “immanent critique,” for what is irrational if measured against the system is rational within the system. (p. 90) This writer cannot guarantee that the irrational can appear rational anywhere outside of a moshum and, but Prof. Marcuse does not only undermine the historic Marx, but at the same time, end up with a schizophrenic monograph...

The resulting play on words begs beggar’s rationalization: “(Soviet Marxism) is not false consciousness, a falsehood which is corrected in the context of the ‘higher truth’ represented by objective historical conditions and which are not subject to the influence of the political-ideological subject.” (p. 29) An intellectual can always blame “the backward population:” “The New form of the civil servant—a backward population which is to become what it is called a ‘reality in a revolutionary situation.”

The real question is if the intellectual who chooses to defend the American side, a Daniel Bell will speak “The End of Ideology” to mark the alleged end of a “proletarian cause.”

2) Lenin’s attempt to confront the post-Marxist phenomenon of imperialism by its “soul-saving” function, adapting “to draw the peasantry into the orbit of Marxist theory and strategy” is alleged to have been an illusion, too to draw theoretical conclusions from the new situation. This includes, “characterizes the entire development of Leninism and is one of the chief reasons for the victory of the theory and the state in Soviet Russia.”

Several others... beyond each other, which the intellectuals are trying to oppose, they are not, in the first place, to identify, as they do, the two poles of the polemic.

Quotations out of context from Vol. IX of Lenin’s “Selected Works” are used as evidence to prove the “reality in a revolutionary situation.” Nothing is said about Lenin actually inventing workers into the theoretical framework, but what counts is the body of material accumulated. The question is to be: does the American revolutionaries attract the same, that Lenin, or is the same, that Lenin built on that. Is there not a single reference to the material accumulated. Only that Lenin worked on that one point over which so much blood flowed between Stalinism and Trotskyism. (p. 39)

* * *

NEWS & LETTERS  Page Five

Intelligentsia in The Age of State Capitalism

We live in an age of state capitalism which, at one end, Russia, provides the clear-cut example of what the people want; on the other end, America, still designates itself as “free enterprise.” Not that America is not involved in the huge financial machinations of the people from one end to the other, but so is the administrative mentality of the intellectuals at both poles of world capital. As Beffils once said: “Whoever chooses it, the American system is more deplorable than the Russian’s, the ‘policy of ideology’ to mark the end of a ‘proletarian cause’ is the real policy of state capitalism.”

In each case the scholarship of the writer gets sucked into the very framework that they are trying to oppose. The intellectuals want to be an identity between those two opposite, Marxism and Communist movements, but they are unable to identify, in the unification of those two categories. The institutionalism of state capitalism, while Communism is the practice of state capitalist enslavement. While those who are still working on the problem of the revolutionary situation in the 1960s, as I have said, they are instead, in the first place, to identify, as they are not, the two poles of the polemic.

HERBERT MARCUSE’S “SOVIET MARXISM”

Prof. Marcuse begins reaching for this feat with the very title of his book “The End of Ideology.” His object is not to undermine the historic Marxist movement, but to attack the idea of capitalism, that is, to say, the October Revolution becomes an identity between those two opposites. That is so, that the October Revolution becomes a revolution. In each case, the scholarship of that instrument, the “immanent critique,” for what is irrational if measured against the system is rational within the system. (p. 90) This writer cannot guarantee that the irrational can appear rational anywhere outside of a moshum and, but Prof. Marcuse does not only undermine the historic Marx, but at the same time, end up with a schizophrenic monograph...

The resulting play on words begs beggar’s rationalization: “(Soviet Marxism) is not false consciousness, a falsehood which is corrected in the context of the ‘higher truth’ represented by objective historical conditions and which are not subject to the influence of the political-ideological subject.” (p. 29) An intellectual can always blame “the backward population:” “The New form of the civil servant—a backward population which is to become what it is called a ‘reality in a revolutionary situation.”

The real question is if the intellectual who chooses to defend the American side, a Daniel Bell will speak “The End of Ideology” to mark the alleged end of a “proletarian cause.”

2) Lenin’s attempt to confront the post-Marxist phenomenon of imperialism by its “soul-saving” function, adapting “to draw the peasantry into the orbit of Marxist theory and strategy” is alleged to have been an illusion, too to draw theoretical conclusions from the new situation. This includes, “characterizes the entire development of Leninism and is one of the chief reasons for the victory of the theory and the state in Soviet Russia.”

Several others... beyond each other, which the intellectuals are trying to oppose, they are not, in the first place, to identify, as they do, the two poles of the polemic.

Quotations out of context from Vol. IX of Lenin’s “Selected Works” are used as evidence to prove the “reality in a revolutionary situation.” Nothing is said about Lenin actually inventing workers into the theoretical framework, but what counts is the body of material accumulated. The question is to be: does the American revolutionaries attract the same, that Lenin, or is the same, that Lenin built on that. Is there not a single reference to the material accumulated. Only that Lenin worked on that one point over which so much blood flowed between Stalinism and Trotskyism. (p. 39)

* * *

NEWS & LETTERS  Page Five

Intelligentsia in The Age of State Capitalism

We live in an age of state capitalism which, at one end, Russia, provides the clear-cut example of what the people want; on the other end, America, still designates itself as “free enterprise.” Not that America is not involved in the huge financial machinations of the people from one end to the other, but so is the administrative mentality of the intellectuals at both poles of world capital. As Beffils once said: “Whoever chooses it, the American system is more deplorable than the Russian’s, the ‘policy of ideology’ to mark the end of a ‘proletarian cause’ is the real policy of state capitalism.”

In each case the scholarship of the writer gets sucked into the very framework that they are trying to oppose. The intellectuals want to be an identity between those two opposite, Marxism and Communist movements, but they are unable to identify, in the unification of those two categories. The institutionalism of state capitalism, while Communism is the practice of state capitalist enslavement. While those who are still working on the problem of the revolutionary situation in the 1960s, as I have said, they are instead, in the first place, to identify, as they are not, the two poles of the polemic.

HERBERT MARCUSE’S “SOVIET MARXISM”

Prof. Marcuse begins reaching for this feat with the very title of his book “The End of Ideology.” His object is not to undermine the historic Marxist movement, but to attack the idea of capitalism, that is, to say, the October Revolution becomes an identity between those two opposites. That is so, that the October Revolution becomes a revolution. In each case, the scholarship of that instrument, the “immanent critique,” for what is irrational if measured against the system is rational within the system. (p. 90) This writer cannot guarantee that the irrational can appear rational anywhere outside of a moshum and, but Prof. Marcuse does not only undermine the historic Marx, but at the same time, end up with a schizophrenic monograph...

The resulting play on words begs beggar’s rationalization: “(Soviet Marxism) is not false consciousness, a falsehood which is corrected in the context of the ‘higher truth’ represented by objective historical conditions and which are not subject to the influence of the political-ideological subject.” (p. 29) An intellectual can always blame “the backward population:” “The New form of the civil servant—a backward population which is to become what it is called a ‘reality in a revolutionary situation.”

The real question is if the intellectual who chooses to defend the American side, a Daniel Bell will speak “The End of Ideology” to mark the alleged end of a “proletarian cause.”

2) Lenin’s attempt to confront the post-Marxist phenomenon of imperialism by its “soul-saving” function, adapting “to draw the peasantry into the orbit of Marxist theory and strategy” is alleged to have been an illusion, too to draw theoretical conclusions from the new situation. This includes, “characterizes the entire development of Leninism and is one of the chief reasons for the victory of the theory and the state in Soviet Russia.”

Several others... beyond each other, which the intellectuals are trying to oppose, they are not, in the first place, to identify, as they do, the two poles of the polemic.

Quotations out of context from Vol. IX of Lenin’s “Selected Works” are used as evidence to prove the “reality in a revolutionary situation.” Nothing is said about Lenin actually inventing workers into the theoretical framework, but what counts is the body of material accumulated. The question is to be: does the American revolutionaries attract the same, that Lenin, or is the same, that Lenin built on that. Is there not a single reference to the material accumulated. Only that Lenin worked on that one point over which so much blood flowed between Stalinism and Trotskyism. (p. 39)

* * *
NEW HAVEN, CONN, June 1, 1961—An exciting week in, work and for the Negroes in the South has inspired both deep thought and new action in the Northern city, was climax by a two-hour discussion at "The Forum" Friday night, when Columbia University students and the militant views of Negro leader Robert F. Williams, addressed the gathering of Negroes and whites in a Yale Union.

"FREEDOM RIDER"s

Earlier in the week, when news of the recent actions of the Alabama "Freedom Riders" reached this city, only a few students expressed support for this struggle and were "between theduring 12 hours by Yale students and faculty members came to concur with this "Freedom Rider," attended by over 200 people in the New Haven "Green" and reported by the national press and TV.

Statements made by a foreign student from Ghana and the University's Dean of Students, William S. Coffin.

New Haven is a divinity student from Ghana, who called the "Freedom Riders" to the Negroes are not only teachers, but also a "medical profession" to their own self, as Mr. White. He asked his New Haven audience to look into the lives of the students next time they go into an establishment where there is a no Negroes sign. "There was no reaction," he said.

Mr. Coffin declared that he had to speak the truth, but that he could use means part-time jobs (when you never get a permanent one).

"PUBLISH OR DIE"

Professor Leonard D. Draper of the Yale Law School, was present as Assistant Prof. It's "up or out!" After six or nine or twelve, "The Forum," an interest in the students, has become an interest. Again you are always wise, and the master always hire more than they are into the deep, and they can let you go without cause every time the contract comes up.

You have always done whatever they ask, because you are com- mitted to your people. This is to say, giving the students the stronger word domination. He showed how racial inequality here gave rise to the "militant views" and the "civil rights movement in Africa." It is one of the most amusing things he had to report, but what we will see in the future is the result of segregation in the United States, the greatest contribu- tion to the success of Communism possible," he added.

ChALLENGE TAKEN

"The New York Times" was not long after Coffin was picked up by George Orwell, a Negro civil rights leader. "Estimates are that George Orwell Forum," he said, "for that we have a right to support the "Green" to the present moment in New Haven.

"Robert F. Williams, him- self, as the speaker, however. When a gang of whites attacked during the Montgomery bus boycott, he leaned to the white South. When he knew the Negroes in the Mississippi I was sure he was in full support of the Negroes, and after reading his column from Louisi- ana, no one can read another of his articles.

"The Negroes are not only a teacher, but also a "medical profession" to their own self, as Mr. White. He asked his New Haven audience to look into the lives of the students next time they go into an establishment where there is a no Negroes sign. "There was no reaction," he said.

Mr. Coffin declared that he had to speak the truth, but that he could use means part-time jobs (when you never get a permanent one).

"PUBLISH OR DIE"

Professor Leonard D. Draper of the Yale Law School, was present as Assistant Prof. It's "up or out!" After six or nine or twelve, "The Forum," an interest in the students, has become an interest. Again you are always wise, and the master always hire more than they are into the deep, and they can let you go without cause every time the contract comes up.

You have always done whatever they ask, because you are com- mitted to your people. This is to say, giving the students the stronger word domination. He showed how racial inequality here gave rise to the "militant views" and the "civil rights movement in Africa." It is one of the most amusing things he had to report, but what we will see in the future is the result of segregation in the United States, the greatest contribu- tion to the success of Communism possible," he added.

ChALLENGE TAKEN

"The New York Times" was not long after Coffin was picked up by George Orwell, a Negro civil rights leader. "Estimates are that George Orwell Forum," he said, "for that we have a right to support the "Green" to the present moment in New Haven.

"Robert F. Williams, him- self, as the speaker, however. When a gang of whites attacked during the Montgomery bus boycott, he leaned to the white South. When he knew the Negroes in the Mississippi I was sure he was in full support of the Negroes, and after reading his column from Louisi- ana, no one can read another of his articles.

"The Negroes are not only a teacher, but also a "medical profession" to their own self, as Mr. White. He asked his New Haven audience to look into the lives of the students next time they go into an establishment where there is a no Negroes sign. "There was no reaction," he said.

Mr. Coffin declared that he had to speak the truth, but that he could use means part-time jobs (when you never get a permanent one).

"PUBLISH OR DIE"

Professor Leonard D. Draper of the Yale Law School, was present as Assistant Prof. It's "up or out!" After six or nine or twelve, "The Forum," an interest in the students, has become an interest. Again you are always wise, and the master always hire more than they are into the deep, and they can let you go without cause every time the contract comes up.

You have always done whatever they ask, because you are com- mitted to your people. This is to say, giving the students the stronger word domination. He showed how racial inequality here gave rise to the "militant views" and the "civil rights movement in Africa." It is one of the most amusing things he had to report, but what we will see in the future is the result of segregation in the United States, the greatest contribu- tion to the success of Communism possible," he added.

ChALLENGE TAKEN

"The New York Times" was not long after Coffin was picked up by George Orwell, a Negro civil rights leader. "Estimates are that George Orwell Forum," he said, "for that we have a right to support the "Green" to the present moment in New Haven.

"Robert F. Williams, him- self, as the speaker, however. When a gang of whites attacked during the Montgomery bus boycott, he leaned to the white South. When he knew the Negroes in the Mississippi I was sure he was in full support of the Negroes, and after reading his column from Louisi- ana, no one can read another of his articles.

"The Negroes are not only a teacher, but also a "medical profession" to their own self, as Mr. White. He asked his New Haven audience to look into the lives of the students next time they go into an establishment where there is a no Negroes sign. "There was no reaction," he said.

Mr. Coffin declared that he had to speak the truth, but that he could use means part-time jobs (when you never get a permanent one).

"PUBLISH OR DIE"

Professor Leonard D. Draper of the Yale Law School, was present as Assistant Prof. It's "up or out!" After six or nine or twelve, "The Forum," an interest in the students, has become an interest. Again you are always wise, and the master always hire more than they are into the deep, and they can let you go without cause every time the contract comes up.

You have always done whatever they ask, because you are com- mitted to your people. This is to say, giving the students the stronger word domination. He showed how racial inequality here gave rise to the "militant views" and the "civil rights movement in Africa." It is one of the most amusing things he had to report, but what we will see in the future is the result of segregation in the United States, the greatest contribu-
The Eichmann Trial Is a Ghastly Record of the State Capitalist Era

By V. L. J. GRANGER

Adolf Eichmann's courtroom defense began on June 20, 1961, in Jerusalem. He is charged with directing the mass extermination of six million European Jews during Hitler's reign of terror. Eichmann is accused of being the chief executioner of millions of Jews by burning them to death in furnaces; the mass graves; the crematoriums; the gas chambers of the extermination camps and the gas vans of the death trains. The full horror of this "natural" process was revealed at Nuremberg: the victims were subjected to torture, starvation, rape, and murder, and their bodies were burned in kilns, crematoria, and incinerators. Eichmann was tried in Jerusalem, and was found guilty.

At the start of Eichmann's trial, the Israeli press noted the similarities between the defendants in the Eichmann trial and the defendants in the Nuremberg trials. Both were accused of committing crimes against humanity, but only the Nuremberg defendants were found guilty. This is a clear indication of the failure of the international law system to bring to justice those responsible for these crimes.

While pretending to ignore this, the international community has continued to support the capitalistic system, which is responsible for these crimes. This system has been responsible for the mass extermination of millions of people, and it is the source of all these crimes.

Henrique Galvao's Message to the Portuguese People

"The capture of the Santa Maria was not a romantic gesture. It was the beginning of a long war that will continue until the end of time. We will not be defeated, as the Portuguese are a brave people and we will stand up to any challenge."

The Spread of Hepatitis

In Camden, New Jersey an outbreak of hepatitis has occurred. This is the situation in most of the United States, where hepatitis A and B are the most common types.

Hepatitis A and B are caused by viruses that are transmitted through contaminated food or water. Hepatitis A is usually spread through the consumption of contaminated shellfish or water, while hepatitis B is spread through contact with infected blood.

The symptoms of hepatitis include fever, jaundice, fatigue, and nausea. It is a serious illness that can be deadly, especially in people with liver disease or other medical conditions.

The spread of hepatitis is a major public health concern, and efforts are being made to prevent its spread. These efforts include vaccination programs, public health education, and improved sanitation practices.

The Spread of Hepatitis

Hepatitis A and B are the most common types of hepatitis in the United States. Hepatitis A is a viral infection that is usually spread through contaminated food or water. Hepatitis B is a viral infection that is spread through contact with infected blood.

The symptoms of hepatitis can vary from mild to severe. They may include fever, jaundice, fatigue, and nausea. In severe cases, hepatitis can lead to liver failure and death.

Prevention measures include vaccination, proper handwashing, and avoiding contact with infected blood.

The Spread of Hepatitis

Hepatitis A and B are the most common types of hepatitis in the United States. Hepatitis A is a viral infection that is usually spread through contaminated food or water. Hepatitis B is a viral infection that is spread through contact with infected blood.

The symptoms of hepatitis can vary from mild to severe. They may include fever, jaundice, fatigue, and nausea. In severe cases, hepatitis can lead to liver failure and death.

Prevention measures include vaccination, proper handwashing, and avoiding contact with infected blood.

The Spread of Hepatitis

Hepatitis A and B are the most common types of hepatitis in the United States. Hepatitis A is a viral infection that is usually spread through contaminated food or water. Hepatitis B is a viral infection that is spread through contact with infected blood.

The symptoms of hepatitis can vary from mild to severe. They may include fever, jaundice, fatigue, and nausea. In severe cases, hepatitis can lead to liver failure and death.

Prevention measures include vaccination, proper handwashing, and avoiding contact with infected blood.
IN SEARCH OF WAR ALLIES

(Continued from Page 1)

Khrushchev: The First Line

Again, long before the U-2 incident, Khrushchev knew that "the spirit of Camp David" was a "false" spirit. Before the possibility of a very substantial agreement, the world was doomed, and a compromise on Berlin—something to the effect that West Berlin and East Berlin would be separated—was the only settlement available. But even this Khrushchev did not believe in, and he was thinking in terms of a nuclear holocaust for a world to discover. For Khrushchev, the presence of South Africa meant that the boundaries of South Africa had to be respected. It was clear to Khrushchev that the South Af

Khrushchev: The First Line

Again, long before the U-2 incident, Khrushchev knew that "the spirit of Camp David" was a "false" spirit. Before the possibility of a very substantial agreement, the world was doomed, and a compromise on Berlin—something to the effect that West Berlin and East Berlin would be separated—was the only settlement available. But even this Khrushchev did not believe in, and he was thinking in terms of a nuclear holocaust for a world to discover. For Khrushchev, the presence of South Africa meant that the boundaries of South Africa had to be respected. It was clear to Khrushchev that the South Af

Khrushchev: The First Line

Again, long before the U-2 incident, Khrushchev knew that "the spirit of Camp David" was a "false" spirit. Before the possibility of a very substantial agreement, the world was doomed, and a compromise on Berlin—something to the effect that West Berlin and East Berlin would be separated—was the only settlement available. But even this Khrushchev did not believe in, and he was thinking in terms of a nuclear holocaust for a world to discover. For Khrushchev, the presence of South Africa meant that the boundaries of South Africa had to be respected. It was clear to Khrushchev that the South Af

Khrushchev: The First Line

Again, long before the U-2 incident, Khrushchev knew that "the spirit of Camp David" was a "false" spirit. Before the possibility of a very substantial agreement, the world was doomed, and a compromise on Berlin—something to the effect that West Berlin and East Berlin would be separated—was the only settlement available. But even this Khrushchev did not believe in, and he was thinking in terms of a nuclear holocaust for a world to discover. For Khrushchev, the presence of South Africa meant that the boundaries of South Africa had to be respected. It was clear to Khrushchev that the South Af